KIRKSVILLE POLICE DEPARTMENT DEPUTY CHIEF TIM KING ON CYBER CRIME: Deputy Chief King has served in every position in the department since starting with the Police Department in June of 1985. He has expertise in investigating a wide range of computer related crimes such as online predators or examining computers seized in criminal investigations - the subject of today's talk.

Kirksville's internet computer crime investigation, which began in 2006, covers not only Adair county but 12 adjacent counties. They work closely with the FBI office in Kirksville. The program operates on grants ($59,000 State grant plus an additional $5,000 grant) and does not use city dollars. The unit has one full-time employee who also does forensic work, plus Tim and Sarah Holtzmeier also help. They do not instigate exchanges but pose as children online to gain information. The unit has had great success based on the evidence developed against such predators, leading to sentences averaging 20 years in Federal prison. Advice for Parents and Grandparents: (1) Get computers and laptops out of bedrooms, (2) Ask what child is doing and to show you the sites he/she is visiting, (3) Be suspicious if internet history is missing. Talk with your kids!
